

The tempo of success

Each Soyuz launch carries four satellites for the existing Globalstar constellation

The next mission of Arianespace's Starsem subsidiary will lift four more Globalstar satellites. Half of Globalstar's current constellation was orbited by Starsem-operated Soyuz launch vehicles.

The Arianespace logo features a blue circle with a white arrow curving around it, pointing upwards and to the right. Below the logo, the word "arianespace" is written in a lowercase, sans-serif font. Underneath that, the words "Service & Solutions" are written in a larger, bold, sans-serif font.
