

Tempo of Success

The heavy-lift Ariane 5 operated from the Spaceport's ELA-3 launch zone

POWERFUL

Ariane 5's latest mission success has lofted two international observatories on missions to unlock the mysteries of our universe. The Herschel and Planck spacecraft were successfully launched May 14 by Arianespace to study the formation of stars and galaxies, as well as provide new insights on how the universe is expanding.

