

2010 arianespace
service & solutions

30 Years of Success

Photo: Thales Alenia Space

The no. 2 Automated Transfer Vehicle will have a liftoff mass of 20,500 kg. when launched by Ariane 5

EXPLORER

The second Automated Transfer Vehicle, named after German astronomer Johannes Kepler, has arrived in French Guiana. To be launched by an Ariane 5, it will support continued exploration with the International Space Station.