

30 Years of Success

Thales Alenia Space's RASCOM-QAF1R and Nilesat 201 satellites are prepared at the Spaceport

FOOTPRINT

Ariane 5's next mission will launch two satellites to provide improved communications, TV broadcasting, regional telephony and high-speed data services for Africa and the Middle East. This third heavy-lift flight of 2010 underscores our service & solutions commitment to satellite manufacturers and operators worldwide.
